Reports

Margaret Constance Dorrington

Jenni Hill

Margaret Constance Dorrington sometimes known as Peg. Born on the 22nd June 1916 in Beckenham in London. She went to Beckenham Girls Grammar School. She should have gone on to university but in those days people who went to university had wealthy families. She left school at 16 and became a photographer's assistant which sparked her lifelong interest in photography.

Her mother had always told her she should get a job which would have a pension and so through her photography, she first went to the Foreign Office (FO) to photograph documents, and then moved into administration and then began a career which was fascinating. I would have loved to have heard more about it, but unfortunately she said very little because she had signed the Official Secrets Act. I knew latterly she vetted diplomats. She knew the Cambridge Spies Burgess and McLean and later - people like Douglas Hurd. During the war she fire watched on the roof of the FO and shared the watch on a number of occasions with the great man himself - Winston Churchill!

She stayed at the FO until just a few years before her retirement when she came to Cambridge to the Crown Estates Department in Brooklands Road where she looked after Crown properties.

She met her husband Sid in early 1939 when he was delivering gas masks to homes in Beckenham, but they didn't marry till the 50's because of the war and its aftermath. In 1947-48 she sailed on the Queen Mary to New York (and back on the Queen Elizabeth) as part of a delegation - presumably to negotiate on the lend lease agreement. She was there about two months and she said the food was wonderful in the US after rationing in England. She also said she was one of the very few who was not seasick on the ship - it was winter and the Atlantic was rough!

They had planned to retire to Kessingland on the east coast as they were very keen on sailing, but when they heard that the cottage where they moored their boat in Horningsea was for sale they decided to buy it! Happily for Horningsea they settled in Rosemary Cottage.

Peg retired in 1975 and that left her free to pursue her many interests - sailing, gardening, travelling, music, history, archeology and reading - she never walked past a bookshop without going in and buying ! She had a lifelong love of learning

Most of all - together with Molly Marshall and Mrs Burgess she devoted much of her time to restoring and breathing new life into Horningsea's beautiful old church which was virtually derelict in the 70's. She told me there were even brambles growing through the windows! I think you will agree they did a wonderful job and we were so pleased last year that she was able to have one of her 100th birthday celebrations in her beloved church.

I first met Peg over 30 years ago when we moved to Horningsea. She was collecting for Red Cross and when I opened the door my two small terriers tumbled out to greet her. She had recently lost her Jack Russell and she invited the dogs and me for a cup of tea with her. Since then I have had thousands of cups of tea with her - over which we often put the world to rights - we didn't always agree but it was fun to agree to disagree! We had many happy times together visiting National Trust - scouring antique fairs and days out doing things that interested us both. We had so much in common and it has been an amazing friendship. She was a wonderful, wonderful lady and I shall miss her!

Friends of Horningsea Church AGM

John Rooke continues as chairman and Michael Harrison as treasurer for another year. The Friends are looking for a couple of volunteers! Would you be able to take on the task of secretary? This is not onerous as the Friends only have a formal meeting once a year so you would need to keep the minutes and draft the agenda. The two projects the Friends will support this year will be the printing of a new edition of the Guide to Horningsea Church and some work to the Bailey window. The Guide was last written about 20 years ago and we have run out of copies. It needs updating. We need to find someone to do the updating and then a printer. If you know anyone who would be interested in getting involved in the project or if you know anyone who might like to help please contact us on ldathorningsea@gmail.com. If you would like to become a Friend please contact Michael Harrison mharrison5@btconnect.com

New Priest in charge of Horningsea

Rev'd Alun Ford has settled into the Rectory at Fen Ditton and started to meet everyone in the Parishes. Children at Fen Ditton school will already have met him at Assemblies, and he will be coming to the various events in Horningsea during the next few months so please introduce yourself to him! This is a "part time" post so he is available Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. His email address is parishesthree@gmail.com. Landline is 01223 295927.

Notes

Public Calendar of Horningsea events

There's a public calendar to share Horningsea events. This is a busy little village and it can be hard to keep track of all the different events. Anybody can access it and hopefully it will prove to be a useful extension of the Herald. To view the calendar open this link:

You can also add it to your own calendar directly using the following link:

Please contact the Herald (horningseanews@gmail.com) if you require assistance. If you want to enter events please also contact us and we'll send you an invitation.

How to submit news to the Herald

The only guideline for news is for events and articles that are of direct relevance to the inhabitants of Horningsea. The Herald does not accept advertising, but one off "news items" may be used to publicise your "service". To submit news items either email "horningseanews@gmail.com" or submit them via Twitter <https://twitter.com/horningseanews>. You must submit by the 25th of the month, the Herald being published before the first weekend of the month. Submission of any news items implies consent to any editing and the editorial team's decision is always final. Plain text sent via email is greatly preferred.
