News from St Peter's Church

On Sunday 2nd January there will be no service at St Peter's Horningsea. There will be a Communion Service at Teversham at 11am and everyone is welcome to attend that service instead. The next service at St Peter's will be on Sunday 9th January at 11am.

400th Anniversary of the King James' Bible

2011 is the 400th Anniversary of the King James' translation of the Bible. On Sunday 30th January 2011 at 11am we will have a Service of celebration at St Peter's Horningsea using the Book of Common Prayer for the Service and the King James Bible for the readings.

During the afternoon of 30th January everyone is asked to come back to St Peter's for tea, cakes and to read their favourite passage from the King James's translation. If you have a bible passage that is important to you – "we had it at our wedding", "I learnt it at school", "I've always found those phrases come back to me ..." - why not come along. It may be you know exactly where the passage comes from or you may have no idea where in the Bible you would find it. Send in your favourite passage in whatever way you think of it and we will locate it for you!

Contact Lindsay 862588 or Lindsay@horningsea.freemove.co.uk if you would like to read or if you have a favourite passage you would like someone else to read on your behalf.

Thank You from Horningsea Church Council for making our Christmas celebrations so successful – to those who did the temporary repairs on the floor, for those who read and sang at the Advent event and Carol Service, the children (and Dads) who took part in the Nativity, to everyone who decorated the Church ... and those who just came!

Toddler Group Treasure Map Winner

A big Thank you to all who bought a square for our toddler group treasure map. The number hiding the treasure was drawn by Tom Canning (chef at Plough and Fleece) on Friday 18th at the Christmas Cabaret. The Lucky winner was No 2: Sian Flaherty from Abbots way.

Also many, many, thanks to Ro and Emily and all staff at the Plough and Fleece for promoting our fund raising and contributing to it. We had a lovely party today with a visit from Santa.

News from Bottisham Village College

Trust partners are now bringing their expertise into Bottisham Village College to enrich the learning and widen the experiences of all its students.

The College changed its status in September from a community school to a Foundation Trust school with the key purpose of supporting the education of students and promoting community cohesion.

The College has teamed up with seven Partners – Cambridge Building Society, Cambridgeshire and Peterborough NHS Foundation Trust, Faculty of Education University of Cambridge, The Marshall Group of Companies, The National Stud, Red 2 Green and the John Lewis Partnership – to form the Bottisham Educational Trust.

Since then, there has been a series of meetings to decide how best the Partners can actively participate in the life of the College. Staff have been asked their views and have come up with a range of ideas under such headings as enterprise, aspirations and future careers, health and well-being, managing money and ethics.

There are plans for Partners to take part in assemblies and PSHE Days as well as providing speakers, role play scenarios and work experience across a range of curriculum areas.

Earlier this month disability charity Red2Green, which has a base at BVC, was involved in Year 7's PSHE Day on diversity and difference and next term other Partners will be following suit.

"Many Trust partners will be involved in a careers carousel on Year 10's World of Work PSHE day on February 1 and will also be involved in mock job application and interview tasks on that day," confirmed Assistant Principal Helena Ceranic.

Examples of concrete curriculum projects included Marshalls providing a business mentor for a social enterprise group, Newmarket Stud running sessions on animal ethics for GCSE RS and genetic breeding for science and the Faculty of Education developing tours for Gifted and Talented students, she said.

Tabbi Smith, Training Director at The National Stud said: "We are delighted to be involved in the Bottisham Trust. It is an ideal opportunity to support local education and to help young people understand more about the industry."

A request from Cambridgeshire Constabulary

Cambridgeshire Constabulary and Marshall Airport Cambridge UK ask for your assistance in ensuring that during these times of an increased threat to our security you are able to help us by being our eyes and ears around Marshall Airport Cambridge.
